

Phonics Terminology Match -Up

Take a few minutes with your team to match the terms to the definitions below.

phoneme   c  

grapheme   d  

onset   f  

digraph   g  

schwa   b  

morpheme   a  

diphthong   h  

rime   e  

- a) The smallest meaningful unit of language The individual sound. The word 'cat' is one of these.
- b) The vowel sound that is sometimes heard in an unstressed syllable and which most often sounds like /uh/ or the short /u/ in cup or short /i/ in hit.
- c) The smallest unit of sound in our spoken language. Pronouncing the word cat involves blending three of these /k/ /a/ /t/.
- d) A written letter or group of letters representing one speech sound. Examples: b,p, sh, igh, eigh.
- e) The first vowel sound in a word plus all the letters/sounds that follow (e.g. strong: rime is ong)
- f) All consonant sounds in a word that are before the first vowel sound (e.g. strong: onset is str) The "bl" in the word blue is one of these.
- a) Two letters represent one phoneme: usually neither letter represents their phoneme (e.g. th, wh, ch, sh, ph, and ck)

Handout #2a Answer Key Phonics Terms to Match

- g) Pattern of vowels whose sounds glide together in the same syllable ( e.g. ou, oi, aw, oo, ow, oy)